

Supplemental Material S2. Distribution of fluency in other languages (than the first language used exclusively in testing) by the two groups of participants in each experiment. The French-speaking group was more bilingual than the English-speaking group, especially in Experiment 3.