

Supplemental Material S3. Speech-language and specialized services history.

	P1	P2	P3	P4	P5
Significant speech, language, and communication problems, or were these a problem in the past?	Yes; He has a thought he would like to share and then would have difficulty expressing what he wants to say. Ex would be he would start his thought process and then stop and move onto something else.	Yes; speech articulation	Yes; language delay and dyslexia	No	No
Current speech, language, or other concerns? Please explain.	Specific learning disability, sees speech therapist 9th grade, no longer other services but gets help within groups and with teachers, such as math; mother noticed at 5 years backwards, switches words, hard to understand sentences make no sense; had 3 head injuries no LOC, but had blurred vision, no further treatment besides rest	Current dyslexia and math specific learning disability school diagnosis, reading and language concerns and previous articulation, does not qualify for school-based services, some difficulty with social interaction, medication for ADHD	Current special education 1-2 hours for reading, qualifying for dyslexia in school and parent reported anxiety-weekly therapy, birth to three for apraxia – though this is not a current diagnosis - and delays, continued speech concerns to 8th grade	Current special education classroom for one period, ADHD, dyslexia dysgraphia, reading comprehension, language-based learning disability, trouble getting thoughts on paper, ADHD from psychiatrist - medication for anxiety, executive function-related accommodations, but difficulty understanding directions, memorize instead of reading, good vocabulary skills	Reading difficulties and trouble with jumbled thoughts and grammar currently, saw speech therapist until 3rd grade, 504 in high school for reading, current accommodations through student disability services that are not very helpful
How much did your child babble and coo	The same as siblings or	The same as siblings or other	Less than expected	More than expected	The same as siblings or other

during the first six months of life?	other children his/her age	children his/her age			children his/her age
Intervention
Birth to three	No	No	Yes	No	No
History of intervention or special educational services	Yes; speech- language therapy; occupational therapy; special education	Yes; speech- language therapy; special education	Yes; speech- language therapy; sensory integration therapy; physical therapy; occupational therapy; developmental therapy; special education	Yes; speech-language therapy; sensory integration therapy; behavioral therapy; physical therapy; occupational therapy; developmental therapy; special education	No; behavioral therapy
Current services	Speech- language therapy	Special education		Speech-language therapy; behavioral therapy; occupational therapy; special education	Accommodations (per parent report: "for test anxiety among other things. Not totally aware of all")

Note. P = participant.