

Supplemental Material S1. Summary and description of lecture stimuli.

Discourse Variable	Expository		Narrative
	Compare–Contrast	Cause–Effect
Number of Words	743	731	935
Number of Sentences	51	50	57
Words per Sentence	14.5	14.6	16.4
Paragraphs	8	8	8
Flesch Reading Ease	61.7	66	66.4
Description/Main Idea	Living in Lifeland has advantages and disadvantages in the areas of housing, education, employment, and population growth.	Early Lifeland inventions affected the development of other nations' early inventions, shipbuilding, written languages, and architecture.	The good of humankind was observed in the "man in the water," who died after saving people following a plane crash in Lifeland.